

DIESEL FUEL TREATMENT FLEET PROGRAM GUARANTEED RETURN ON INVESTMENT (ROI)

B3C is confident that if Diesel Mechanic In A Bottle Industrial Fuel Treatment is used according to instructions, on a consistent basis, that the benefits will outweigh the cost of the product. As such, B3C offers this "GUARANTEED RETURN ON INVESTMENT" under certain conditions.

B3C's guarantee for the Diesel Fuel Treatment Program states that if the purchaser does not gain more benefit in savings equal to or exceeding the original purchase price of the product (excluding shipping and handling), under the defined ROI parameters*, your sole and exclusive remedy is a refund of an amount up to your original purchase price amount, not including sales tax and shipping and handling charges.

* Any refund is based on provable savings (or lack of savings) achieved stated as positive or negative ROI.

- If your savings using the product is equal to or more than your original purchase price, then there is no refund. This is positive ROI, and the guarantee was met.
- If your savings is less than your original purchase amount (excluding shipping and handling charges), then B3C will refund the difference between the savings amount you did achieve and the original product purchase price (excluding shipping and handling charges). This is negative ROI, and the guarantee was not met.

To calculate your ROI, and for the potential refund to apply, the consumer (purchaser) must provide proof of the following:

- There must be an established baseline of before cost measurements for the equipment / engine in which the diesel treatment is utilized (e.g. maintenance, fuel, DEF usage, miles per gallon, filter, injector, pump costs).
- There must be a minimum utilization of 4 or more tankfuls of treatment with our product in the equipment / engine for which the baseline is established – more use or tankfuls is better.
- There must be clear after measurements (after the 4 or more tankfuls of treatment) against the baseline measurements such that savings or lack of savings is clear and measurable.
- All before and after measurements must be proven using records, receipts, testing and must be provided to B3C for B3C to validate a provable ROI.

Each purchaser is limited to one refund per entity (business). B3C cannot and does not assume any liability for damages caused by manufacturer's defects, lack of maintenance, abuse or the use of the wrong fuel, oil, or lubricants.

To claim your refund, mail this form to the address below with all records and original receipts (or copies of original receipts) to prove your ROI in this program. Please demonstrate your savings or lack of savings by showing your original product purchase cost (less shipping and handling) and your calculated savings with documentation:

B3C Fuel Solutions
PO Box 1660
Conway, SC 29528

For questions: (843) 347 - 0482

Please allow 4-6 weeks for processing.